Projects

- Simple Simon - Browser based game using JavaScript, jQuery, CSS & HTML
- Weather Finder - API based browser project developed utilizing Google Maps API with a browser map and search bar to provide a 3 day weather forecast of any region.
- Ad-lister Project - Craigslist clone developed in a two person team. Responsible for database storage using MySQL as well as the PHP logic to display/create ads and create/allow users to login and view the unique ads for their account.
- Reddit Clone - Using Laravel, I created a reddit clone allowing new or existing users the ability to create or update posts from their login. Users could also up-vote or down-vote any post contributed to the site as well as edit their particular account info.
- Fitwager - A unique web application built over two weeks allowing fitbit users the opportunity to challenge their friends to challenges with wager coins on the line. Live statistics are pulled from the Fitbit API and the winner(s) of the unique challenge types are awarded coins with the live leaderboard reflecting the top users.
